ESCAPED CONVICTS NEARLY CAUGHT AT ALLENTOWN

Elude Highway Patrolmen
When Motor Cycle
Spills

SHOTS ARE EXCHANGED

Flier Is Broadcast for Officers
To Be On The Watch
For Them

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 6 (I.N.S.)—Three motorists, two of whom are believed to have been the convicts that escaped from the Eastern Penitentiary Sunday night, eluded two State Highway patrolmen on the Bethlehem-Bath Highway near here early today. Eight shots were fired at the automobile before the patrolmen were outdistanced when their motorcycle spilled.

The patrolmen, Corporal Dodson and Patrolman Fleming, were returning on their motorcycle from Bath where they had been patrolling the highway when they saw a man, believed to be Bishie, standing in the road beside a machine containing two other men, one of which they said answered the description of Lynch. When the man in the road saw the uniform of the state troopers he jumped into the auto and the trio sped away.

The patrolmen gave chase firing four shots in an effort to halt the machine. They gained rapidly but as they neared the speeding machine their motorcycle skidded when it struck a fluid which has been dumped from the auto. The officers were unhurt, however, and again gave chase.

A second time as their motorcycle approached the fugitives the patrolmen fired four shots into the speeding car but were out-distanced when their motorcycle spilled them for the second time when it struck some kind of a liquid dumped from the speeding machine.

FIELD CLUB WINS FIRST OF THE SERIES

Gets Initial Contest by Narrow
Margin For The Twilight
Championship

FINAL SCORE WAS 4 TO 3

Before the largest Saturday crowd to witness a ball game in a decade, the Bristol Field Club, winners of the second half of the Twilight League and Keystone Aircraft team, champions of the first half, battled through nine innings at Leedom's Field, last Saturday. It was the first game of a series of three to decide the local championship and the Field Club came out on top by the score of 4-3.

For days previous to the game employees of the T. L. Leedom Co., in conjunction with President David Landreth, of the Twilight League, worked to prepare the field for the event and with ideal weather the ambition of the league officials to put on a real championship game was realized.

Both pitchers, McCarty and Kohler, were in rare form but the support given them was poor at times. McCarty allowed but five hits and fanned three while Kohler was found for eight safeties and fanned eleven. Kohler breezed along in great shape until the eighth session when a hit followed by three errors in succession completely unnerved him and his failure to locate the plate allowed Keystone to come within a run of tying the score.

How the game was played:
Field Club won the toss and elected to take the field first.

FIRST INNING—Cooper walked. McCarty sacrificed to J. Fine unassisted. Jones flied to Hibbs. Roe out. Kohler to J. Fine.

Cochran out. Brooks to Mangan. Brooks took Dugan's foul fly. Brooks to Mangan retired Beaton.

SECOND INNING—W. Fine threw out David. Kohler to J. Fine disposed of Brooks. Mangan hit over Hibbs' head for two bases. Connors fanned.

Deitrick struck out. Brooks made a good try for Hibbs' hard smash, it being scored as a hit. J. S. Fine's grounder went through Roe, who missed an easy double play. Lake forced Fine at second, Hibbs advancing to third. Hibbs scored on a passed ball but David recovered the ball in time to nail Lake, going from first to third, on a fine throw to Brooks. One run.

THIRD INNING—Jefferies fanned. Cooper struck out, the ball going through Deitrick but the latter recovered it and threw to first ahead of the runner. McCarty hit to left center for two bases. Cochran corralled Jones' drive in right centre after a hard run.

W. Fine walked out and stole second. Kohler out Roe to Mangan. Fine reaching third. Cochran's "Texas League" scored Fine. McCarty threw wild to first to catch Cochran napping, the runner advancing. Roe took Dugan's grounder and threw to Brooks, putting out Cochran. Beaton flied to Connors. One run.

FOURTH INNING—Beaton threw out Roe. David out Dugan to J. Fine. Brooks hit by pitched ball. Mangan scratched a hit to Dugan. Connors reached first on balls. Jefferies fanned.

Deitrick flied to Jones. Hibbs hit to right centre for two bases. David to Brooks settled Hibbs on an attempt to steal. J. Fine walked. Lake forced Fine. Roe to Jones.

FIFTH INNING—Cooper flied to W. Fine. McCarty struck out. Jones hit safely to left field and stole second. Deitrick threw to centre field in an attempt to catch Jones napping. Jones coming all the way home on the error. Roe made a snatching single along the third base line. David forced Roe at second, Dugan to Beaton.

Roe missed W. Fine's short fly over second after a great try for a one hand stab. The batter received credit for a hit. On Kohler's attempt to sacrifice McCarty made a poor heave to Mangan. Fine taking third. David threw over Brooks' head trying to catch Fine asleep at third and both runners scored. Cochran out Brooks to Mangan. Dugan flied to Cooper, in deep centre. Brooks threw out Beaton. Two runs.

SIXTH INNING—Brooks reached first on balls, but took too much leeway and was caught on Deitrick's quick throw to J. Fine. Mangan flied to Hibbs. Connors retired on strikes.

Connors muffed Deitrick's smash to left field. Roe's throw of Hibbs' grounder got away from Mangan. Fine forced Deitrick at third Roe to Brooks. Lake hit to Jones and was doubled up with Fine, Jones to Roe to Mangan.

SEVENTH INNING—Jefferies fanned. Cooper beat out a hit, a slow one to W. Fine who threw wild to (Continued on Page Four)

THE BURGESS' LETTER

(EDITORIAL)

IT is hardly surprising that the letter addressed by Burgess Anderson to the Republican voters of Bristol, and reprinted in full in the Courier of September 2nd, has caused consternation in the camp of those who have been endeavoring to make political capital out of their own distorted versions of the so-called fire defense issue.

The Burgess' letter, calm, courageous, convincing, fell like a bomb. Its explosion illuminated every important aspect of the fire defense question in a way that not only deprives the promoters of that "issue" of any real reasons to carry before the voters in opposition to the regular Republican candidates, but actually shows that the real aims of this opposition would entail an inevitable increase in the tax rate.

There are other phases of Burgess Anderson's letter which we shall discuss in subsequent issues, but at this time we desire merely to emphasize two of the most outstanding statements contained in the letter. Listen to the Burgess' unflinching and unqualified language:

"I put my integrity as Chief Burgess, my reputation as a citizen, and my standing as a business man, behind the statement that Borough Council and the Burgess could have found no warrant or justification whatever for acceding to the demands of the various companies, which action the volunteer firemen themselves well knew would be equivalent to committing the Borough to the complete equipment, maintenance and support thereof not only of the five companies then existent, but of a sixth as well, which we all know was being projected and would have been formed almost immediately, had Borough Council and the Burgess committed the citizenship to any such policy."

We hope that the citizens of Bristol will get that statement so clearly into their minds that no amount of misstatement will be able to obscure or dislodge it. It is the essence of the action which was taken by Borough Council and the Burgess upon the fire defense problem.

What would it have meant to the citizenship if the Burgess and Council had committed the Borough to the policy demanded by the fire companies? It is set forth in the Burgess' own language and is the second vitally important aspect of his letter to which we desire to draw attention at this time:

"The whole investigation by Borough Council and its Fire Committee showed that Borough maintenance of the existing five companies, with the paid men demanded by the Underwriters to avoid an increase in insurance rates, would, as demonstrated for instance in Chambersburg and Carlisle, cost the taxpayers at least $15,000 per annum, which is equivalent to an increase of a mill in the tax rate, as against the present $7,500, which will be sufficient to operate and maintain the new consolidated volunteer company."

How different are the actual facts, as stated by the Burgess, from the irresponsible allegations and assertions of those who are attempting to mislead the citizens as to the most important considerations attached to the fire defense problem! Small wonder, then, that the Burgess' letter fell like a bomb upon that political camp.

HULMEVILLE NINE WINS 3-COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIP

Southampton Nine Loses Contest in Play-Off for Honors

THREE-COUNTIES IN LINE

HULMEVILLE, Sept. 6.—By virtue of the fact that Hulmeville baseball team defeated the Southampton nine Saturday afternoon in the second game of the play-off of a tie that existed between these two teams and Langhorne in the Tri-County Twilight League, the Hulmeville aggregation will be presented with a silver loving cup within the next few days.

Hulmeville boys were victorious in every game of the first half of the schedule, with games played totaling 13. In the two halves of the series the Hulmeville nine was winner of 20 out of a total of 23 games played. Near the end of the second half the triple tie existed between Southampton, Langhorne and Hulmeville; and in the play-off the winner of the cup defeated Langhorne and Southampton by scores of 2 to 1 and 5 to 3, respectively.

The Hulmeville-Langhorne game brought hundreds to the diamond here, as the two teams have been strongly vying for honors. The score at the commencement of the 12th inning was one to one, but a splendid hit made an extra point possible for the home team.

At the start of the League games there were eight teams listed in the group—Hathboro, Southampton, Byberry, Bethayres, Holmesburg, Langhorne, South Langhorne and Hulmeville. When the Hathboro group withdrew in the first half, the other seven

THOUSAND KLANSMEN MARCH IN PARADE HERE

Procession Through Streets Is Watched by Many Spectators

FROM DISTANT POINTS

Approximately 1,000 Klansmen and Klanswomen marched through Bristol yesterday previous to staging an annual field day at China Hall, Croydon. The parading delegations marched behind banners of "Liberty Bell Klan" No. 289, Philadelphia, "Benjamin Franklin Klan," "Cradle of Liberty Klan" and Easton Klan. There were a long string of cars filled with others from various sections.

Three bands of music were in line and the parade marched over Pond street to Monroe, thence to Radcliffe, to Mill to the Highway to the place of formation.

The Klan regalia except for the visors was worn by a majority of those in the line.

A detail of officers came from Philadelphia, a detail of 10 State Highway patrolmen and Pennsylvania Railroad police augmented the local police force for the occasion. With this large number of additional police officers it was so arranged that an officer was stationed at every street intersection, covering the route of the parade.

All traffic was cleared from the streets traversed and the traffic lights were shut-off for the time being.

The Klansmen marched in fours and formed a cross at intervals during the march.

WASHINGTON CLUB WINS HANDSOME RACE TROPHY

Contest for Honors Was Close
And Leader Was Hard
Pressed

Y. M. A. STANDS THIRD

The two day meet of the Middle States Canoe Racing Association concluded here last night, with Washington Boat Club the winner of the club trophy, who was closely pressed for first position by Philadelphia Boat Club.

In the two day meet Washington Boat Club and Philadelphia Boat Club each scored a total of 37 points. Under the rules of the Association, in cases of tie, the clubs scoring the greatest number of first places is declared the winner. In this the two clubs were likewise tied, each having captured five firsts. So then the club scoring the greatest number of second places was counted and Washington won with four, which was one greater than the number of seconds scored by Philadelphia.

The other clubs finished in the following order: Potomac, of Washington, 25; Y. M. A., of Bristol, 19; Yapeewil, Bordentown, N. J., 5; Maryland, of Dandak, Maryland, 3. The second day meet, yesterday, attracted a larger crowd than that of Saturday when the opening events were staged. The time made by the crews were faster and all of the events were by Seniors.

Harry Knight, of the Washington Boat Club and Marc Fore, of the same club, captured the senior tandem doubles in the last time of 3:01. This pair are well known in the shell racing game. Knight won the one-man doubles championship this year, conducted by the Middle States and A. C. A. Fore was one of the crew that captured the single blade championship at Canada on July 1st of this year.

The Young Men's Association which acted as the host club for the two day meet was highly complimented on the manner in which it was conducted and for the generous hospitality shown the visitors.

Another celebrity was Gude, of the Potomac Boat Club, Washington. Gude is better known as the "Ghost of the South," where he is noted for his speed. Gude is credited with having won his junior, intermediate and senior races all in one day and was the champion in his class in 1921-1923.

Summary of events:

Senior Quad Doubles—Time, 2:53—First, Philadelphia—Sopp, B. Voss, Hunter and Graff; second, Potomac—Helverstein, Eshbaugh, King, Gude; third, Young Men's Association, Bristol—Holland, Bauer, F. Smith, W. Smith.

Senior Tandem Singles—Time, 3:14 4/5—First, Washington—Knight and Ogden; second, Potomac—Thomas and E. Miller; third, Philadelphia—Hunter and Ogden.

Senior One-Man Doubles—Time, 3:21 4/5—First, Washington—Knight; second, Washington, Meyer; third, Philadelphia—B. Voss.

Senior Tandem Doubles—Time, 3:01—First, Washington—Knight and Fore; second, Potomac—E. Miller and C. Miller; third, Philadelphia—Sopp and Graff.

Senior One-Man Singles—Time, 3:37 3/5—First, Robert Mitchell, Yapeewil, Bordentown, N. J.; second, Fore, of Washington; third, Burch, Potomac.

Two Men on Gunwales—First, Philadelphia—Fladd and Swenson; second, Washington—Knight and Fore; third, Brady and Marsh.

The junior events held Saturday afternoon lagged somewhat due to the scarcity of shells, which necessitated the finishing of one race before the contestants in the next event could proceed to the starting point.

Al. Bauer was starter; Carl T. Major, referee; N. L. Opdyke, Philadelphia Canoe Club; L. W. Wiese, Y. A. C., Bordentown, N. J.; John Smoy (Continued on Page Four)

7 PHILADELPHIANS HELD UNDER BAIL FOR COURT TRIAL

Free-for-All Fight Takes Place
At Gavegan's
Garage

SIX WITNESSES TESTIFY

Guns and Riot Sticks Found
In Autos by The Police

The seven Philadelphians, alleged members of the Ku Klux Klan, some of them wearing the uniforms of the Guards of the Klan, were given a hearing here this morning before Justice Frederick I. Kraft on the charge of carrying concealed deadly weapons with the intent to maliciously injure others. Each of the men was held under $300 bail for the next term of Bucks County criminal court.

Those held gave their names as follows:

Charles Zimmerman, 2333 E. Boston avenue; William Baker, 2043 Frankford avenue; Richard Harrington, 2757 W. Dauphin street; John C. Calhoun, 2516 W. York street; Charles C. Burke, 2725 N. Garnet street; Walter Piffl, 2816 W. Lehigh avenue, and Edward Shepard, 2302 street.

The hearing was the outgrowth of a free-for-all battle staged in the vicinity of the garage of John Gavegan, Beaver and Buckley streets, early last evening.

At the hearing this morning, Chief of Police John J. McGuckin briefly told of the Klan holding a parade here which he said went off in an orderly manner. The Chief testified that in the permit granted the Klan to parade, it was specifically stipulated that no firearms or weapons should be carried and that masks were not to be worn.

"After the parade," said the Chief, "an automobile truck and two other autos with about 25 men dressed in part regalia of the Klan was at the intersection of Beaver and Buckley streets. The men jumped out and with firearms and clubs beat a couple of boys in that vicinity and then went away. We received a riot call and I placed 10 guards over in that section." Then later, according to the Chief, another car was halted and three pistols taken therefrom. One of these guns was a .45 automatic and the other one was a .38. Some of the guns were loaded. A loaded gun was also found on Shepherd.

Oscar Singer, of Bristol, was the first witness called and he testified that he heard a group of Klansmen in a car riding along remark, "We are going over among the Irish to start something." Singer said there was a Ford coupe and two other cars. He could not identify any of the men under arrest.

Daniel Sackville, Bristol, identified Harrington as the man who jumped out of one of the automobiles during the parade in front of the blacksmith shop of Ambrose Petty, Otter street, Bristol, remarking, "I can lick any Irishman ever seen." "The man then got back into the car," Sackville said.

Zimmerman stated that he drove from Philadelphia with his wife, a friend and his wife and child and a sailor up to China Hall, Croydon. The parade was formed when he reached there and he joined it. One of the Klan Guards asked him permission to put riot sticks, which the police found in his car, into it as the Guard remarked that they were not allowed to parade with them in Bristol. Zimmerman made this statement to show why the sticks were in his machine.

After the parade, Zimmerman said he returned to China Hall and it was reported that three of the women of the Klan

THREE R'S AND A FOURTH

Reading, 'ritin' and 'rithmetic have their forces marshaled for a new educational campaign. Hundreds of pupils will go into the classrooms, some of them for the first time but most of them to resume courses of study that have been interrupted by the summer vacation. Some will go back reluctantly, others will take up school routine perfunctorily as one of the little annoyances of life and a few will take up the broken thread of culture with as much enthusiasm as could be expected under the circumstances. How wonderful a day it would be if all pupils could see it as they will see it in retrospect a few years hence, when sentiment as well as the practical side of life will bring a realization of the full meaning of the words of the old song about "school days, school days, dear old golden rule days."

That is a song for the mature and it should have the effect of reminding them of the fourth R in education responsibility. It is likely that few persons capable of self-appraisal do not feel they neglected their opportunities for education when they were going to school. Most of them will blame themselves for what they have missed and they will be right. If they are wise they will say to themselves that they also will be responsible for a large part of what their children will miss if they are not awake to the extent that the return of school days involves them in the matter of duty.

The character of a child is formed by itself, its associates and its environment. Its deviations are the result of impulse, inclination and direction. The old saying—"As the twig is bent the tree is inclined"—holds good now and forever. The slightest causes have their effect on character and the accumulation of them, for good or bad, form an important sum in the life of any person. A boy doesn't become a rowdy or a hoodlum spontaneously but by degrees, nor does a little savage become acceptable company for others except through training and reformation.

That is what constitutes the burden of responsibility of parents in school days. Too often they thank heaven for the end of vacation in the mistaken idea that the school teacher will take their children in hand and make little gentlemen and ladies out of them without any assistance from the home. There is more to home work than just the preparation of lessons, and wise parents realize this. If more of them did they would be laying up a smaller quantity of future tears for themselves than many are doing.

Keep trying and after a time you will become so important that you can leave the car at home and ride on the street car without losing caste.

We are pretty sure we have read some of the books of that inmate of the English asylum who is a popular author. At least we thought the writer crazy.

BUICK for 1928

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

When Buick improves upon Buick —the standard for the year is set

Buick for 1928 introduces a higher standard of beauty and luxury than the world has ever known. Buick interiors are as modish as exquisite drawing-rooms—as harmoniously colored—and as comfortable. Buick's new Fisher bodies are low-swung with-out any loss of head-room or road-clearance.

And so, down to the smallest detail of construction, wherever refinements could be made, Buick made them. Again Buick has improved upon Buick. Again the standard for the year is set.
